The Epistle Of James

Introduction

AUTHOR

James, who identifies himself as "a bondservant of God and of the Lord Jesus Christ" (1:1). There are four men who bear this name in the New Testament:

- ♦ James, son of Zebedee and brother of John - A fisherman called by Christ (Mt 4:17-22) who later became an apostle (Mt 10:2). Together with John, they were nicknamed "Sons of Thunder" because of their impulsiveness (cf. Mk 3:17 with Lk 9:51-56). He was killed by Herod in 44 A.D. (Ac 12:1-2).
- ♦ James, son of Alphaeus - Another one of the apostles (Mt 10:3; Ac 1:12), about whom very little is known. He may be "James the younger," whose mother, Mary, was among the women at Jesus' crucifixion and tomb (Mt 27:56; Mk 15:40; 16:1; Lk 24:10). In Jn 19:25, this Mary is called the wife of Cleophas, perhaps to be identified with Alphaeus.
- ♦ James, father of Judas the apostle - Even more obscure, one of the few references to him is Lk 6:16.
- ♦ James, the brother of our Lord - A half-brother of our Lord (Mt 13:55), who did not believe in his brother at first (Jn 7:5). He became a disciple following the resurrection (1 Co 15:7; Ac 1:14) and gained prominence in the church at Jerusalem (Ga 2:9). As evidence of his prominence, Peter sent him a special message following his own release from prison (Ac 12:17). James also played an important role in the conference at Jerusalem (Ac 15:13-33), and Paul brought him greetings upon arriving at Jerusalem (Ac 21:18-19).

"James, the Lord's brother" (Ga 1:19) is most likely the author of this epistle. Tradition describes James as a man of prayer, which may explain the emphasis on prayer in his letter. It was said that he prayed so much, his knees were as hard as those on a camel. He was martyred in 62 A.D., either by being cast down from the temple, or beaten to death with clubs. It is reported that as he died, he prayed as did Jesus, "Father, forgive them, for they know not what they do."

RECIPIENTS

The epistle is addressed to "the twelve tribes which are scattered abroad" (1:1). This naturally leads one to think of Jews (Ac 26:6-7) living outside the land of Palestine. Since the Assyrian and Babylonian captivities, many Jews were scattered throughout different nations (Ac 2:5-11). While Jews, the epistle makes it clear that they were also brethren in the Lord, i.e., they were Jewish Christians. Nineteen times James calls them "brethren" and at least one time he definitely means those who were brethren "in the Lord" (2:1).

It appears many of these Jewish Christians were poor and oppressed. Being Jews, they would often be rejected by the Gentiles. As Jewish Christians, they would also be rejected by many of their own countrymen. The letter indicates that most were poor, and some were being oppressed by the rich (2:6-7). Because it was not addressed to a single church or individual, it has been categorized a "General" or "Catholic" (universal) epistle along with 1 and 2 Peter, 1 John, and Jude.

TIME AND PLACE OF WRITING

With no mention of the Jerusalem conference recorded in Acts 15 (A.D. 49), and the use of the word "synagogue" (assembly, 2:2), A.D. 48-50 is the date commonly given for this epistle. This would make it the first book of the New Testament written. If James, the Lord's brother, is the author, then he probably wrote it in Jerusalem.

PURPOSE OF THE EPISTLE

The epistle deals with a variety of themes, with an emphasis upon practical aspects of the Christian life. Some of the subjects include handling trials and temptations, practicing pure religion, understanding the relation between faith and works, the proper use of the tongue and display of true wisdom, being a friend of God rather than a friend of the world, and the value of humility, patience and prayer.

While these may appear unrelated, they are crucial to the growth and development of the Christian. For this reason, I suggest that James' purpose was:

TO INSTRUCT CHRISTIANS CONCERNING TRUE AND PRACTICAL RELIGION

In this epistle is a call to be doers of the Word, manifesting a living faith through one's works. In 108 verses, there are 54 imperatives (commands), prompting some to call James "the Amos of the New Testament."

KEY VERSE: James 1:22

"But be doers of the word, and not hearers only, deceiving yourselves."

The Epistle Of James

Chapter One

OBJECTIVES IN STUDYING THIS CHAPTER

- 1) To appreciate the value of enduring trials
- 2) To understand how sin develops, from temptation to death (separation from God)
- 3) To note the importance of being doers of the Word, and practitioners of religion that is pure and undefiled before God

SUMMARY

Following a simple and humble salutation (1), James begins his epistle with a call to view trials as occasions to rejoice, understanding they can produce patience which leads to maturity (2-5). If wisdom is needed, he counsels his readers to ask God with faith and no doubting (5-8). In the meantime, the poor are encouraged to rejoice in their exaltation, while the rich are to be thankful for their humiliation (9-11).

Motivation to endure temptation is given, along with an explanation as to the true source of temptations and the development of sin which leads to spiritual death (12-15). Let no one be deceived, God is not the source of temptation, but the Father of every good and perfect gift which comes down from above, who has brought us forth that we might be the firstfruits of His creation (16-18).

With admonitions to be swift to hear, slow to speak, and slow to wrath, James then expounds upon a major theme of this epistle: to be doers of the word and not hearers only. Illustrating the folly of being a hearer only, he contrasts the difference between religion that is useless and that which is pure and undefiled before God (19-27).

The Epistle Of James

Chapter Two

OBJECTIVES IN STUDYING THIS CHAPTER

- 1) To consider the sin and danger of showing personal favoritism
- 2) To note the folly of faith without works, how that faith without works is a dead faith

SUMMARY

In this chapter we first find a call to hold the faith of Jesus Christ without partiality. Evidently some were displaying favoritism toward the rich in their assemblies, while despising the poor. Showing respect of persons made one a judge with evil thoughts, and James provides several reasons why such prejudice was unbecoming of those who believe in Jesus and worthy of condemnation (1-13).

James then addresses the relationship between faith and works, especially the folly of professing faith when unaccompanied by works. Using several examples to make his point, including those of Abraham the friend of God and Rahab the harlot, James declares three times that faith without works is dead (14-26).

OUTLINE

I. TRUE RELIGION DOES NOT SHOW PARTIALITY (1-13)

A. SUCH AS SHOWING PREFERENCE TO THE RICH (1-3)

1. The faith of our Lord Jesus Christ, the Lord of glory, is not to be held with partiality
2. A case in point: showing preference with seating arrangements in the assembly

B. REASONS NOT TO SHOW PARTIALITY TOWARD THE RICH (4-13)

1. It makes one a judge with evil thoughts
2. Has not God chosen the poor to be rich in faith and heirs of the kingdom?
3. Have not the rich oppressed and blasphemed you?
4. Does not the royal law call upon us to love our neighbor?
5. Partiality will convict us as transgressors, even if we stumble in only one point
6. We shall be judged by the law of liberty, in which judgment without mercy is given to those who show no mercy

II. TRUE RELIGION SHOWS FAITH THROUGH WORKS (14-26)

A. FAITH WITHOUT WORKS CANNOT SAVE ONE (14-19)

1. What profit is there in faith without works?
 - a. Can such faith save one?

- b. Is there any profit to tell a naked and destitute person to be warm and filled, and not give them what they need?
- c. Thus faith by itself, without works, is dead
- 2. Faith is shown by one's works
 - a. It is not enough to claim to have faith
 - b. The devils believe in God, and tremble

B. FAITH WITHOUT WORKS IS DEAD (20-26)

- 1. As exemplified by Abraham, the friend of God
 - a. Who was justified by works when he offered his son Isaac on the altar
 - b. His faith was working with his works, and by them perfected his faith
 - c. By his works the Scripture was fulfilled that declared him faithful and righteous
- 2. As exemplified by Rahab, the harlot
 - a. Who was justified by works when she hid the spies
 - b. Thus faith without works is dead, just as the body without the spirit is dead

The Epistle Of James

Chapter Three

OBJECTIVES IN STUDYING THIS CHAPTER

- 1) To appreciate the power and danger of the tongue
- 2) To understand the difference between heavenly wisdom, and that which is earthly, sensual, and demonic

SUMMARY

James begins this chapter with a caution against many becoming teachers. In view of the stricter judgment that awaits teachers, one should be sure they possess the maturity and self-control necessary to control the tongue. James then provides a series of illustrations to demonstrate the power and danger of the tongue, and how we can easily be inconsistent in our use of it (1-12).

Perhaps some sought to be teachers so as to appear wise. Yet James writes that wisdom and understanding are to be shown by one's conduct, done in meekness. He then defines and contrasts the difference between two kinds of wisdom. There is wisdom which is earthly that causes confusion and every evil thing. On the other hand, there is wisdom which is heavenly that produces the peaceable fruit of righteousness (13-18).

OUTLINE

I. TRUE RELIGION CONTROLS THE TONGUE (1-12)

A. CAUTION AGAINST BECOMING TEACHERS (1-2)

1. Teachers shall receive a stricter judgment
2. Maturity and self-control are required not to stumble in word

B. THE POWER OF THE TONGUE (3-4)

1. Like a bit which controls the horse
2. Like a small rudder which directs the ship

C. THE DANGER OF THE TONGUE (5-6)

1. A little member which boasts great things
2. Like a little fire which kindles a great forest fire
3. Indeed, the tongue can be a fire, a world of iniquity
 - a. Capable of defiling the whole body
 - b. Capable of setting on fire the course of nature, being set on fire by hell

D. THE DIFFICULTY OF TAMING THE TONGUE (7-12)

1. Man can control creatures of land and sea, but not the tongue
2. It is an unruly evil, full of deadly poison
3. With it we bless God, and then curse man made in His image
 - a. Thus blessing and cursing proceed from the same mouth
 - b. Something which should not be so
 - 1) For no spring sends forth both fresh and salt water
 - 2) Neither does a fig tree bear olives, nor a grapevine bear figs

II. TRUE RELIGION DISPLAYS HEAVENLY WISDOM (13-18)

A. THE TRUE DISPLAY OF WISDOM AND UNDERSTANDING (13)

1. To be seen in one's conduct
2. With works done in meekness

B. THE DISPLAY OF EARTHLY WISDOM (14-16)

1. Full of bitter envy, self-seeking, boasting and lying
2. A wisdom not from above, but is earthly, sensual, demonic
3. Producing confusion and every evil thing

C. THE DISPLAY OF HEAVENLY WISDOM (17-18)

1. Wisdom from above is first pure, then it is...
 - a. Peaceable, gentle, willing to yield, full of mercy and good fruits
 - b. Without partiality and without hypocrisy
2. The fruit of righteousness is produced by peacemakers who sow in peace

The Epistle Of James

Chapter Four

OBJECTIVES IN STUDYING THIS CHAPTER

- 1) To gain insight into the source of wars and fighting, even among brethren
- 2) To see the importance and means of befriending God, of not speaking evil of brethren, and planning for the future with the Lord's will in mind

SUMMARY

James asks his readers to consider the source of wars and fights among themselves. He identifies the problem as their own desires for pleasure which war within themselves. Perhaps exaggerating for the sake of emphasis, he describes their lust and coveting (even murder!) for things they do not have and cannot obtain. It renders their prayers fruitless, for they have selfish motives in mind. Sounding like an Old Testament prophet, James charges them with adultery for trying to befriend the world. Becoming a friend of the world leads to enmity with God, who jealously desires us. But if they are willing to humble themselves, God is willing to show more grace (1-6).

James therefore counsels them to draw near to God in humble submission, with clean hands, purity of heart, and true contrition. He warns against speaking evil of brethren and judging one another, lest they become judges and not doers of the law. The chapter ends with a call to make plans with the Lord's will in mind, for we have no idea what the morrow holds and life is short. Otherwise we boast in our arrogance and sin when we fail to do what we know is good (7-17).

OUTLINE

I. TRUE RELIGION DOES NOT BEFRIEND THE WORLD (1-6)

A. THE SOURCE OF WARS AND FIGHTS (1-3)

1. From within, from desires that war in one's members
2. Such as lust (envy), murder (hate?), coveting, which do not give what one seeks
3. Leading to unanswered prayers, due to selfishness

B. FRIENDSHIP WITH THE WORLD IS ENMITY WITH GOD (4-6)

1. Whoever wants to be a friend of the world becomes an enemy of God
2. Even as the Scripture warns, and not in vain
3. While God resists the proud, He is willing to give grace to the humble

II. TRUE RELIGION DRAWS NEAR TO GOD (7-17)

A. BY SUBMITTING TO GOD'S AUTHORITY (7-12)

1. Submit to God, resist the devil and he will flee
2. Draw near to God and He will draw near to you
 - a. Cleanse your hands, sinners
 - b. Purify your hearts, double-minded
 - c. Mourn and weep for your sins
 - d. Humble yourself before God, and He will lift you up
3. Let God be the Lawgiver and Judge
 - a. Do not speak evil of one another and judge one another
 - 1) Otherwise you speak evil of the law and judge the law
 - 2) Otherwise you are not a doer of the law, but a judge
 - b. When there is really only one Lawgiver who is able to save and destroy

B. BY SUBMITTING TO GOD'S WILL (13-17)

1. We should be careful in making plans for the future
 - a. We do not know what will happen tomorrow
 - b. Life is but a vapor that appears for a little while and then vanishes
2. Therefore we should acknowledge "If the Lord wills" in our plans
 - a. Otherwise we boast in arrogance, which is evil
 - b. For one to know to do good and not do it, that is sin

The Epistle Of James

Chapter Five

OBJECTIVES IN STUDYING THIS CHAPTER

- 1) To appreciate the need for patience in times of oppression
- 2) To see the value of prayer and confessing sins in times of sickness

SUMMARY

The final chapter opens with a strong condemnation toward the rich who were oppressing the poor while living in pleasure and luxury. Most likely these were rich unbelievers such as those mentioned earlier (cf. 2:6-7). The Lord heard the cries of those defrauded, and judgment was to come upon the rich who had condemned and murdered the just. This passage may be an allusion to the destruction of Jerusalem foretold by Jesus in Matthew 24 and fulfilled in A.D. 70. James counsels his brethren to patiently wait for the coming of the Lord, and to establish their hearts. Appealing to the farmer, the prophets, and to Job as examples of patience, he also warns against grumbling against one another and swearing rash oaths (1-12).

The last half of the chapter provides a call to prayer and praise. The suffering are to pray, the cheerful are to sing praises, and the sick are to call for the elders of the church. The elders were to pray over the sick and anoint with oil in the name of the Lord. What is uncertain is whether the anointing was sacramental or medicinal (I think the latter, see Review Questions below). In answer to the prayer of faith, the Lord will raise the sick and also forgive sins if they had been committed. In this context James encourages Christians to confess their sins to one another and pray for one another that they may be healed. He reminds them of the value of fervent prayer by the righteous, using Elijah as an example of how God answers prayer providentially. The epistle then closes with a reminder that turning a sinner from the error of his way will save a soul from death and cover a multitude of sins (13-20).

OUTLINE

I. TRUE RELIGION DISPLAYS PATIENCE UNDER OPPRESSION (1-12)

A. GOD'S ANGER AT RICH OPPRESSORS (1-6)

1. The rich are called to weep and howl for the miseries to come upon them
 - a. Their riches are corrupted
 - b. Their garments are moth-eaten
 - c. Their gold and silver are corroded
 - 1) Which will be a witness against them
 - 2) Which will eat their flesh like fire
 - d. They have heaped up treasure in the last days
2. The reasons for God's anger against the rich

- a. They have defrauded the laborers who mowed their fields
 - 1) Keeping back wages owed them
 - 2) The cries of the reapers have been heard by the Lord of Sabaoth (Hosts)
- b. They have lived in pleasure and luxury, fattening their hearts in a day of slaughter
- c. They have condemned and murdered the just who does not resist them

B. A CALL FOR PATIENCE UNDER OPPRESSION (7-12)

1. Be patient until the coming of the Lord
 - a. Consider the patience of the farmer
 - b. Establish your hearts, for the coming of the Lord is at hand
2. Do not grumble against one another
 - a. Lest you be condemned
 - b. The Judge is standing at the door
3. Remember the examples of suffering and patience
 - a. Such as the prophets who spoke in the name of the Lord and are blessed for their endurance
 - b. Such as the perseverance of Job, to whom the Lord proved very compassionate and merciful at the end
4. Above all, do not swear (make rash oaths)
 - a. Either by heaven or by earth or with any other oath
